Dear Patrick:

"A ventriloquist? I've seen one of those before..." That's the kind of response we got when we first started marketing your show. To be honest, it wasn't one of the easiest shows to sell with people who thought, "if you've seen one, you've seen them all!" But sell, we did and what a show it was!

You and Matilda are so much fun! Your quick-witted dialogue with Matilda kept everyone laughing and, at times, nodding in agreement or elbowing the person next to them as if to say, "See? I told you so!"

Matilda clearly had the audience in the palm of her hand. When she spoke – everyone listened and made eye contact with her – not you. The concertgoers seemed to relate to Matilda and by the end of the show, I think they believed they had made a new friend!

After the show, many of our residents commented on how there were times when you became the by-stander and Matilda was "live and on stage..." In my book that says it all!

Thank you so much for introducing us to Matilda and letting us listen in while the two of you shared bits of Matilda's wisdom with her unique spin on life! Please tell Matilda to stop by and see her Monte Vista friends whenever she is in Arizona.

Sincerely,

Pat Stemple
